Re: 7A-ME-NEW, 05/01/2012

The BAIN family was in the process of moving from Tennessee to Arizona [redacted]

[redacted] The BAIN family had started packing personal belongings on Wednesday, April 25, 2012 and continued through Thursday night, April 26, 2012, with the help of MAYES.

Later Thursday night, April 26, 2012, MAYES suggested that they have some drinks of Tequila. After MAYES made drinks of Tequila Sunrise for [redacted] JO ANN BAIN and himself [redacted] [redacted] JO ANN BAIN went to sleep in their bedroom at approximately 10:30 pm, on Thursday night, April 26, 2012. [redacted]

[redacted] [redacted] ADRIENNE BAIN were asleep earlier [redacted]

MAYES, through interviews by law enforcement officers, indicated that he left the residence between 3:30 to 4:00 am, on April 27, 2012. MAYES stated he did not see anything unusual and did not see any vehicles missing from the residence. MAYES stated that when he left the BAIN residence and was a quarter of a mile away in his blueish purple 1999 Dodge Durango, he realized he had left his toothbrush and returned to the residence to get it. MAYES stated he entered the home and got his toothbrush from the bathroom and then left for his home located at 1371 Highway 9N, Guntown, Mississippi.

On April 27, 2012, [redacted] reported to the HCSO, the family's bronze Dodge Durango with Tennessee license plates [redacted] as missing, along with JO ANN BAIN and [redacted] children. Later found missing from the residence was the purse belonging to JO ANN BAIN. Chief Davis stated the HCSO, learned the only thing missing from the residence was JO ANN BAIN's purse.

On April 30, 2012, at approximately 7:00 am, the HCSO department located the bronze Dodge Durango, in a farm field at the intersection of Chapleau Road and Herron Lane in Hardeman County, Tennessee, approximately two miles from the BAIN residence. The vehicle was later processed by the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation (TBI). No signs of JO ANN BAIN or the missing children were found at the location.

I'm [redacted] and have information that could be helpful to your search for Adam Mayes and the kidnapped girls. hill. To my left, a car passed me. It was a "grabber green" Ford Taurus sedan, perhaps eight to ten years old. (That is my favorite car color, and I used to have a car that color. That is why I remember it specifically.) I was going the speed limit (70 mph, on cruise control). Although the car did pass me, it was not going much faster (perhaps 75 mph). So, I got a good look at part of the car from a quartering angle. The car would not have stood out in my memory except for the look on one of the girls faces in the back seat. It was the "whipped puppy" look. By the time I noticed it, the car was already past me. I could not take time to record the license plate number, because a tractor-trailer was losing speed in front of me on the hill. (There was no room to pass, because another car was behind the green car. So, I lost sight of the green car) After getting your press release a few minutes ago, and seeing the photos of the girls, I think that [redacted] is the girl with the "whipped puppy" look, staring out the car window "at nothing in particular". Another detail that caught my eye was that the smaller girl was very close in appearance to her sister, who seemed to be letting "whipped puppy girl" sit in her lap. The older sister had dark circles around her eyes, just as [redacted] does in the photo. The other thing that I noticed about the car was that it was sitting a bit low in the rear end, and there were some belongings piled up on the left side of the rear seat. (I could see the top of the pile through the rear window.) The woman that seemed to be the mother was sitting in the right-front seat. I did not get a good look at her, but I did notice two things. First, she did seem to have chubby cheeks, like the photo of Jo Ann Bain. Second, she was looking around a lot. (At the time, I thought that she was merely being a good "co-pilot", due to the tractor-trailers around. But, after reading the news release, if it was Jo Ann Bain, perhaps she was keeping an eye out to make sure that no one was noticing them, and that there were no police.) I think that, just before I lost sight of them, they changed lanes to the left. So, there is very little chance that they got off the highway in Mount Juliet, because we were only about a mile from the exit when I made this observation. I hope that this information is helpful. I will also call the TBI phone number in your news release.

On Sunday, 05/06/2012, at approximately 12:00 p.m., [REDACTED] drove to the Flash Market gas station and convenience store located on West Broadway, West Memphis, Arkansas. [REDACTED] said the Flash Market is located across the street from West Memphis High

 [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] said the SUV appeared larger than an Explorer, but not as large as a Chevy Tahoe. [REDACTED] did not remember the license plate number displayed on the SUV, but believed it had Tennessee plates. [REDACTED] said the back windows of the SUV were tinted and he could see stuff piled up in the back of the vehicle, possibly clothes. The driver (UNSUB) of the SUV called [REDACTED] over to his driver's door window and asked [REDACTED] if he wanted to buy his Global Positioning Satellite (GPS) device for $20.00. UNSUB said he needed the $20.00 to get out of town. [REDACTED] assumed the UNSUB needed the $20.00 to purchase gasoline. UNSUB unplugged the GPS device from his vehicle, placed it into a black case and gave it to [redacted] in exchange for $20.00 in cash. [redacted] described the UNSUB as a White/Male in his 30's, clean shaven with medium to short hair, wearing a short sleeve shirt. [redacted] did not recall seeing anyone else inside the SUV.

[redacted] noticed UNSUB did not look at other people as they past, but instead turned his head away as to hide his face. UNSUB turned his face away from [redacted] during their exchange and in [redacted] opinion only faced him when necessary. UNSUB acted weird, paranoid, could not sit still and appeared to be in a hurry.

[redacted] believed he was at the Flash Market for approximately 10 minutes. [redacted] said he went inside the Flash Market to pay for his gas, $20.00, which he paid for with cash and to purchase a coke. [redacted] left the Flash Market prior to UNSUB and therefore, did not see which direction UNSUB's SUV traveled when it left. [redacted] said the Flash Market cashier was a Black/Female who he sees regularly. [redacted] did not know the cashier's real name, but said [redacted]
[redacted]

[redacted] called [redacted] while driving home and told her about buying the GPS device. Once at his residence, [redacted] gave the GPS device to [redacted] so she could figure out how it operated. [redacted] then went outside [redacted] looked at the GPS device and saw some of the stored addresses programed into its memory. [redacted] believed one of the address she saw was in Mumford, Tennessee. [redacted] also read through the GPS booklet, which came with the device.

[redacted] watched the Fox News, Memphis affiliate, channel 13, at approximately 5:30-6:00 p.m. [redacted] watched a news story about subject ADAM MAYES. [redacted] said she put the stories together and went outside and told [redacted] about MAYES. [redacted] pulled up the news story using her smart phone and showed [redacted] a photograph of MAYES from the Fox website. [redacted] said the UNSUB looked like MAYES, but appeared clean shaven and had shorter hair. Using a scale between one and ten, one being least sure and ten being most sure [redacted] believed the UNSUB was MAYES by a value of eight or nine.

[redacted] provided the GPS device to interviewing agent and released it to the custody of the FBI for evidence processing and searching. [redacted] and [redacted] touched the GPS device and case, [redacted] only touched the case. All agreed to present themselves to
